IELTS is an international standardized proficiency test, which is usually taken by non-native English speakers throughout the world. Two bodies British Council and IELTS Australia jointly manage the IELTS system. It's major purpose is to figure out your proficiency level which ranges from A1 to C2 Level, however the IELTS system deals with Bands 0 to 9, where Band 9 is equivalent to an Expert User and Band 7 to 8 is stated as Very Good User. This test is mostly required by students who are applying for universities in an English spoken country or sometimes needed for job purposes. IELTS is sub-categorized into General IELTS and Academic IELTS, where Academic is for future prospective students and general is for immigration purposes.
